

WHEN SWEDES MEET ITALIANS

Carpeted floors are back in fashion again! Only a short time ago they are seen as being out of date, although they make a room more cosy. But the new generation of carpeted flooring is something different. It's more stylish and more colourful. The best example was seen at the new collection of the Swedish flooring company Bolon, in collaboration with the Italian Fashion brand Missoni. bolon.com

THE SAMURAI

The grace of a Samurai warrior is now also available as a sideboard.

Designer Alessandro Masturzo was inspired by the Japanese armour when he designed the 'Yoroi' sideboard for De Castelli.

THE BANANA SHOW

Banana motifs are currently a trend, that's why the Belgian Studio Job has designed light objects in the shape of the yellow fruit. The lamps are in various versions and were recently exhibited in the Samuel Vanhoegaerden gallery in Knokke (Belgium). studiojob.be
